

It all goes away

i see your eyes are red like mine lets take a walk, lets take a ride we'll get so high i see your hands shake in a fist lets take a swim into the deep abyss
we'll get so high

I drove a million miles
so that i could come back home met a thousand people
so that i could be alone
i got some friends
but nobody lets me stay
i guess it all goes away
i guess it all goes away
i can't wait for everything to go away i see your faith is growing weak get off your knees and on your feet

i see your sick is growing strong what fun is good when we got wrong

i stayed awake a million hours so forever i could sleep dreamt a thousand victories so i could know defeat
i guess it all goes away

now you won't move without your weight i shake and shook, i shook and shake

i can't wait for everything to go away
